

About Ardoch

Ardoch is a national not-for-profit organisation focused on improving educational outcomes for children and young people experiencing disadvantage.

Our vision is that every child's potential is realised through full participation in education.

We deliver tailored education and wellbeing programs which address barriers to education by providing vital learning and wellbeing resources and activities. These programs build children and young people's confidence, aspirations, social skills, and wellbeing. These are essential elements for enabling full engagement in education and a love of learning. Engagement in education is the key to opening future pathways and possibilities. Without it, the cycle of disadvantage and inequity continues.

We mobilise volunteers to support students in partner schools to act as positive adult role models who invest time, share knowledge, and experience, and actively demonstrate their interest in a child's future.

Values

- Empowerment: We recognise people's strengths and uniqueness, amplify their voices, and support them to make their own choices.
- Learning: We value the power of education to change lives, and continually learn from research, students, partners, communities, and each other.
- Impactful: We strive to create the most meaningful change for the students we support.
- Community: We connect diverse voices and perspectives and collaborate to respond to the unique needs of schools and their communities.
- Accountability: We own our actions and take responsibility for creating a fair, respectful and positive environment.

Position: Education Volunteer

About the Education Volunteers program

Ardoch's Education Volunteers program provides targeted support to enhance children and young people's learning outcomes. Recognising that poor literacy and numeracy is one of the most significant barriers to educational success, Ardoch Education Volunteers assist and complement teachers in classrooms, helping individual children or small groups of children who require extra support, depending on the needs of the students in each school.

Ardoch's Education Volunteers program places screened and trained volunteers into primary and secondary school classrooms at the request of our education partners. Extensive research shows that children learn best when they feel safe and connected with their educators. The Ardoch Education Volunteers program provides students with this ongoing support and connection. To achieve this, we're looking for a commitment of two hours per week for at least six months.

In primary school settings, volunteers typically provide in-classroom literacy support to engage children with reading, writing and language exercises aimed at improving their confidence, engagement, and interaction with literacy, however depending on the school needs and volunteer skills, volunteers may also support a range of other in-class activities.

Child Safety statement of commitment

Ardoch is committed to protecting children's and young people's right to safety and well-being. We know children have a right to be kept safe at all times, so we have a zero-tolerance approach to all forms of child abuse.

We know that some children are more vulnerable than others. That's why we actively promote the safety and well-being of children and young people who:

- are from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities
- are from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds
- have a disability
- identify as LGBTIQ+

Everyone who works with or represents Ardoch is responsible for ensuring that children are safe, feel safe and are involved in decisions that affect their lives.

Ongoing Child Safety requirements

Volunteers, once commenced are expected to:

- Submit to a National Criminal History Check every three years following commencement
- Renew state-based Working with Children Checks prior to their expiration
- Report to Ardoch if charged or convicted with any offence
- Complete an annual child safety refresher training and maintain familiarity with Ardoch's child safety policies and procedures
